BRILLIANT WERE THE NUP-TIALS

At Central Presbyterian Church Princeton, Of Former Crittenden County Young Lady.

TENDERED RECEPTION AT HOPKINSVILLE

At the Central Presbyterian church in this city, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the holy rites of matrimony solemnized between Mr. A. E. Greenhill and Miss Ethel N. Adams.

The nuptial ceremony making this twain one, was pronounced by the venerable Presbyterian divine, Rev. Nourse, of Hopkinsville, in impressive and eloquent measure.

The altar was artistically decorated with potted palms and flowers in blossom, forming a floral bank, behind which Miss Alma Schnabel, a gifted musician of Corydon, Ky., and an intimate friend of the bride, presided at the organ. Those witnessing the ceremony were directed to their seats by ushers, Coleman Moorer of Hopkinsville, and Hinkle Rawles, of this city.

Shortly before four o'clock the carriages with the bridal party arrived before the church, and while the formation of the march was being made in the vestibule, Mrs. J. L. Wilkes sang, "I would Live or I'd Die for You," Miss Schnabel playing the accompaniment. As the last sweet note died away, the organ sounded the wedding march, and the bridal party entered, preceded by the ushers, one down either aisle. The attendants were Misses Melville Akin and Mr. C. A. Graham, Miss Mary Weaver Dyer and Mr. S. Wilson Adams. The bride entered upon the arm of her grandfather, S. Hodge, meeting the groom before the altar, where Rev. Dr. Nourse awaited them. The ceremony was brief but beautiful and solemn.

Later the entire wedding party, with a few other invited guests, took the 5:30 train for Hopkinsville where they were tendered a reception and bridal supper by the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Moore. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Greenhill, Misses Melville Akin, Mary Weaver Dyer, and Alma Schnabel of Corydon. Messrs. C. A. Graham, of New Decatur, Ala., Coleman Moore, of Hopkinsville, S. W. Adams and Hinkle Rawles, of Princeton, and the Rev. Dr. Nourse.

Besides those above named, others attending the nuptials from a distance were Mrs. S. A. Adams of Trinity, Ala., the mother of the bride, Mrs. H. C. Moore, of Hopkinsville, and Mrs. Emmons, Trinity Ala.

The bride is a native of Marion, Crittenden county, and with her parents Rev. R. H. and Mrs. S. A. Adams resided in this city, number of years ago, her father who died a few years later, being at the head of the Princeton Collegiate Institute. She had prepared herself for the profession of a trained nurse, a few months ago taking a post graduate course at Bellevue hospital, New York, and was located at Louisville.

She is a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Hodge, this city, and a young lady of rare intellectual gifts and many accomplishments.

The groom is a popular and prosperous young business man of New Decatur, Ala., and greatly interested in Y. M. C. A. work, being assistant secretary of the organization at that place.

The newly wedded couple left Hopkinsville on an early morning train Wednesday for their future home in New Decatur, bearing with them the good wishes of a host of friends.

IN MEMORIAM.

Clara Porter Carnahan passed away January 1, 1910, aged four years and eleven months.

She was a member of the Beginners' class in the Methodist Sunday school, and the first one to pass from our midst into the fold of the loving Shepherd.

"We know he will but keep Our own and his until we fall asleep. We know he does not mean To break the strands reaching between The here and there."

She was a bright, affectionate child, ready to greet her teacher with a smile, so we miss her greatly.

We extend our sympathy to her bereaved parents and grandparents.

May the little beconing hands gently guide them to the Father's home.

"I love to think that somewhere, In the country we call heaven, The land most fair of everywhere Will unto them be given; A land of little faces—very little, very fair—

And every one shall know her own, And cleave unto it there,

Oh, grant it, loving Father, to The broken hearts that plead!

Thy way is best—yet, oh, to be In perfect faith indeed!

To know that we shall find them,

Even them, the wee, white dead,

At Thy right hand in Thy bright land,

By the living waters led!"

HER S. S. TEACHER.

Notice.

LETTER FROM HON. MARION F. POGUE

O. Wicker, of Frances Precinct Elected Assistant Clerk of the House, After a Hot Fight

HARMONY PREVAILS AND THE TREASURY IS EMPTY.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 10, 1910. Friend Calmes:

The first week of the legislature is now history. We have seen several assemblies, but some how, this one is to us, the queerest yet, and you may not be surprised if it turns up SOME SURPRISES before the thing is over. Everything and everybody seem so strange, but that may be because we are lost in the New Capital, and have not yet got our bearings. The New Capitol is to us yet what the city is to the backwoods visitor on his initial trip. It is well worth a trip to see the stately pile. Domes reaching skywards, colossal pillars, symmetric columns, marble walls and massive stairways all lend beauty, strength to this, one of the most splendid structures on the continent. No Kentuckian can view this building without a feeling of pride, however tight he may hold his own purse strings, he is bound to be glad that "somebody" had it done. And then, no charge of graft, in all the years of building has ever come to make any Kentuckian blush with shame. No graft, no extravagance! How good that sounds, when millions have been squandered in other states and scandals galore.

As to progress, we are now just before going to work. Organization has been perfected with perfect harmony, the Republicans in the House especially with drawing their candidates and voting for the Democratic caucuses nominees.

George Wilson, of Union, is making and ideal Speaker of the House; he won without opposition.

All Crittendenites will be glad to know that Oscar Wicker, of Frances precinct, won out for Assistant Clerk of the House, after one of the hottest fights of our life. Well, you must fight if you would win.

Our old friend Bob Aiken has laid his insurance business by long enough to represent the good people of Caldwell county in this session. So will Senator Catlett look after our interests in the Senate Chamber.

I have never before seen harmony lying around in such big chunks—Democrats and Republicans actually sit together as desk-mates, and it was rumored that a pair of these once irreconcileables were seen to take a drink of Old Taylor out of the same flask. But this is only heresay, and I must report these matters as second handed, because I have taken the pledge, you know.

My dear readers it is indeed a gloomy prospect your servant has before him to-night, howling winds without and snow two feet deep on every side, an empty treasury already and the land lady cross, perhaps anxious to know where she comes in. What, run a legislature without money? Yes, that is the way it looks now. Only a half million on hand and it belongs to the teacher of the State.

Oh what a glorious place soon for claim shavers! At the present rate June 15th will find us two million dollars in debt. What shall we do? Issue bonds or raise the tax rate? Or what, will you tell me?

Several bills have been offered in the Senate and Tuesday will be bill day in the House, then the flood gates will open and the bills will flow in.

We shall try to keep you posted about the happenings of the capital, and if you don't hear from us for quite a spell, you will know that stamps are out, for times are mighty close up here. Your Servant,

MARION F. POGUE.

the President. That is the importance of your position.

"Now, there is a lot of human nature in this thing, as was indicated to you this morning. You will have to be judges of a good many things, and you will have to show some discretion. And there is a lot of human nature beyond you when it comes to the activities of the manufacturers themselves. A man might, for illustration, be a good man and yet not be a good enumerator because he might not have the confidence of the people with whom he has to deal. It is not always easy to get men of the qualifications.

It is easy enough to make examinations but it must be left for you to decide, according to such examinations as you may make, and according to such judgment as you may be able to apply to the cases, who are the proper men to be recommended to the Director for the work which is to furnish the foundation of the census that is ultimately to be completed.

"Now, I trust that that you are showing a lot of human nature in taking these places. When people say that the Government should be run on business principles, I always reply: 'Yes, so far as bookkeeping is concerned, that is true; but so far as employment of human energy is concerned, it can not be true, because the Government does not pay enough to make it worth while for competent men to do what is expected. That is the truth of it. If we did not have enthusiasm and sentiment and love of country and desire to appear right among our fellow men, the Government would never succeed on business principles alone.

"I am very glad that you did have an opportunity, however, to meet the President himself and to hear from him just what the attitude of the Executive on this matter of the taking of the census is; and I am glad that he had an opportunity to say to you how thoroughly he is in earnest about what he has heretofore said.

"It is unnecessary for me to dwell upon the importance of a correct census. Of course, we want to take a better census than has ever before been taken—and that is no disparagement of the work of predecessors. We ought to improve; we ought to improve for reasons which are self evident; we ought to improve because the need for a correct and adequate census now is greater than it has ever been before. It is so on account of the growth of our own country, and because we are coming into relations with other countries, so that a correct report and a reliable statement, to be used not only at home but for comparison with what other countries are doing, is the one essential foundation of all calculations.

"Now, we have done, as we think what we can to accomplish that result. So far as we could, we have placed in charge here at the head men who are experienced, competent and enthusiastic. Of course the office here might perfect in its machinery and its administration, and yet the entire work would be a failure unless you did what the President indicated this morning. After all, granting a false premise anything can be proved. No matter how fine the superstructure may be, if the foundation is not right the building is not worth anything. It is for you to furnish the foundation for what is going to be done. You are responsible to the Director, to me and to the President. That is the importance of your position.

"Now, there is a lot of human nature in this thing, as was indicated to you this morning. You will have to be judges of a good many things, and you will have to show some discretion. And there is a lot of human nature beyond you when it comes to the activities of the manufacturers themselves. A man might, for illustration, be a good man and yet not be a good enumerator because he might not have the confidence of the people with whom he has to deal. It is not always easy to get men of the qualifications.

"Now, I trust that that you are showing a lot of human nature in taking these places. That is the truth of it. If we did not have enthusiasm and sentiment and love of country and desire to appear right among our fellow men, the Government would never succeed on business principles alone.

"It takes something more. It takes willingness for men to serve their country in the places to which they are called. Your places are important I know we can not pay you but I hope you may find your compensation in something better. When the census has been completed and Director Dorand has succeeded in making it the best one that has ever been taken, you may be glad to feel that your part in it was worth while."

Letter From Oklahoma.

Okmulgee, Okla., Jan. 5, '10. Dear Editor:—Inclosed find $1.00 for the Record-Press for 1910.

We are having cold weather but not much rain or snow. December was the coldest for years, say the oldest settlers.

Crops were rather short last year, but prices were good so the farmers are getting along well. The cotton crop was good, so was the price, 5 cents in the seed.

The sheriff of this county concealed about $4,000 worth of whisky and beer found at the Frisco depot two days before Christmas. The sheriffs from other counties did as well, and altogether the state got about $30,000. The sheriffs turned it over to the enforcement officer who ship it to Guthrie. The state sells it to dealers in other states. When this was a territory they packed it into the Gutter.

J. P. KING.

What a head full of theology and a heart full of love for all men. Is the two first statements in your last article. 1st--Theology, Divinity--The entire science of the Christian religion, the science which treats of God and man in all their known relations to each other. My! My!! what theologian, no wonder you can claim respecting, with all that theology in your head. 2nd--And a heart full of love for all men. A strong feeling, affection, combined with gratitude and reverence. Now if you had of had all this love in your heart when you was trying to get that mourner, at Piney Fork Camp meeting, to just say that he was going with you to Heaven, when I interferred, you would have had no occasion to have written your first article. Now Rev. Hill I want you to keep at least cooler than you did that day at Piney Fork. Yes, Adam did fall, but he did not live under the Christian dispensation that we do. He was to stand or fall upon his own merits--was under "a covenant of works." It, therefore, required only one sin to cause his fall. But, in consequence of the "new and better covenant" (the covenant of redemption), christians stand upon a foundation very different from that upon which Adam in his primitive state stood, for Christ is their surety; in him, not in themselves, they stand or fall. We therefore, see at a glance that there is no analogy whatever between the "standing" of Adam in his original state and that of christians under the new covenant, of which we have just spoken. This argument, then, amounts to nothing. The truth of it, if it be an argument, it proves too much for the educator of apostasy; for it shows that only one sin and the very least sin, too, that the mind can possibly conceive of would cause apostasy would un-regenerate the soul. That Judas was lost, died and went to hell, none, perhaps, will deny; but that he was ever a christian none can prove. Rev. Hill would ask, "why did Christ choose him as one of the twelve apostles if he was not a good man?" Why he was chosen, is not the question. The question is, was he a good man? Let the Bible answer, for that is the only evidence that is worth a farthing in this case. The Saviour says:--"Have I not chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?" John 6:70, this language, be it remembered, was spoken before Satan entered into Judas to betray Christ. John says, "he was a thief" and this to, was said prior to the time that he betrayed the Saviour. Again the Saviour says, "There are some of you that believe not, for Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him." John 6:31. Rev. Hill you say Christ was not have the first element of a christian--was a "thief" and a "devil", and "cared not for the poor." Away then, with the idea that he fell from grace; he never had any grace. Again you say it was a new heart the soul gave to Saul. Bro. please stay with the truth and the bible. Now you cannot find it in the bible that the soul gave Saul a new heart this is some of that head full of theology. The bible says, "God gave him another heart," he, however,

AN UNUSUAL OFFER TO SUBSCRIBERS

Every Farmer and Citizen Should Have His Name and Post Office Printed on His Envelopes.

Every farmer or citizen for that matter, should have his name and post office printed on his envelopes and the paper he or his family use in their correspondence, thus avoiding any mistake in a reply. On all rural routes nearly everywhere this custom is being practiced and approved of. When too, it is found to be so much cheaper than buying plain paper and envelopes by the small quantity.

Here is our proposition: To every one subscribing or renewing their subscription to the RECORD-PRESS, we will give 100 envelopes and 250 sheets of nice note paper, with your name and address and whatever you want to say on both for the total sum of $1.50.

The envelopes and paper alone would cost $1.00 anywhere without the printing and by taking advantage of this offer you get the RECORD-PRESS one year to any address, together with 100 nice envelopes and 250 sheets of paper for $1.50.

We promise as much care in pleasing you as if you were paying full price. In other words we will guarantee to please you.

We are making this low offer that we may hold every subscriber and secure as many new ones as possible. We are anxious to increase our circulation from its already present high mark, and feel that this is the best way to do it.

Now of course you can not get your work the day you subscribe and order it. But your name will be entered with a copy of what you want and in a few days at the outside limit your work will be done and done to please you. There is scarcely a family in Crittenden county that will not spend twice this amount in the run of a year for paper and envelopes without the printing.

Should there be those who want only the 100 envelopes with the RECORD-PRESS, the total cost will be $1.25.

We have ordered a tremendous stock of envelopes and paper for this offer and will be ready to fill all order as fast as received. No one will be compelled to wait longer than for the work to dry.

Come in when you come to Marion and leave your order.

Elza Elder was born June 19, 1892, and died December 9, 1909. He was a son of Charlie Elder, of Morganfield. Elza took sick at the home of his sister, Mrs. Earl Farmer, his old home place, and was sick three weeks. He begged his papa to take him back to his home at Morganfield, believing he would get well if he was at home, and his father took him home on Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock. God released his suffering. He professed faith in the Lord during his illness and told his papa and mamma that he was not afraid to die. His remains were laid to rest in the Chapel Hill graveyard. Elzie leaves a father, mother, three brothers, two sisters and a host of friends to mourn his death.

HIS SISTER.

Judge Pierce Gets Letter

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 24th, 1910
Judge J. P. Pierce, Marion, Ky.,

Dear Brother:—Now just to think that you would have on your table the biggest turkey in your country, and me here convalescing, hungry as a wolf, and you never said "turkey" to me. You didn't even offer me a glass of butter milk and that is about all they will let me have.

Well, I will wish you a Merry Christmas, you and your good wife and all the members of the family.

I have been very sick, and my convalescence is a little slow because I have had so much work to do, while lying flat on my back. Really I have succeeded in accomplishing more since I have been sick, that I did when I was well, but I am expecting to be able to come down your way before a great while, so you might as well be giving a little extra feed to the "Buttermilk" cow. A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all.

Most cordially yours,
W. D. Powell.

ANOTHER RECORD BREAKER.

Eight Dollars Five and One-Half Cents For Hogs on Livestock in Market.

Last week we saw the sale of a car load of hogs in the Louisville market by W. H. Bradford & Co. at $8.35 per hundred, the highest price reached within the last thirty years. On Tuesday of this week the same firm sold another car load of 78 head, averaging 314 pounds at $8.77 1.2 per one hundred pounds. This makes another high record for this market and so far as we know this tops the market for this year for any market in the United States. These hogs were fed by Walers & Colemen, of Mercer county, Ky., and were quite a smooth, fat lot and shows that Kentucky, as a hog State ranks with the very best. They were bred in Kentucky, raised and fed in Kentucky. Kentucky is the best hog State and Louisville is the best hog market in the United States.

ANY WOMAN CAN HAVE BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Many women do not realize the attractions they possess because they do not give proper attention to the hair.

The women of Paris are famed for their beauty, not because their facial features are superior to those of other women, but because they know how to keep young by supplying vigor, luster and strength to the hair.

Three years ago Parisian Sage could hardly be obtained in America. But now this delightful hair tonic and dressing can be had in every town in America. Haynes & Taylor sells it for 50 cents a large bottle, and they guarantee it to grow beautiful, luxuriant hair; to turn dull, lifeless hair into lustrous hair; to stop falling hair; to stop itching of the scalp. Ask for Parisian Sage.

"That's it," said the clerk; "you are running it to death and trying to make a hound out of me."

"No. What's the title?"

"Bottled Backwater, for all sorts of backache."

"How do you like the new doctor?"

"Fine. He went to see a patient the other day and offered to knock twenty-five per cent off the sick list for cash."

On Christmas Eve night all Christendom united in celebrating the greatest event in the history of the world, the birth of our Saviour.

Christmas in Marion churches has always been a great event and this year has been no exception to the rule.

The Presbyterian Sunday School rendered a special program in the auditorium of the Main street church which was pronounced, by all present, the best ever witnessed in the city. Long before the hour for the exercises to begin the large auditorium was full of people, and an air of joyful anticipation pervaded the audience, adults as well as children.

The program rendered was a beautiful one. For the previous two weeks the members of the Sunday School had been rehearsing their parts under the instructions of Mrs. S. M. Jenkins, assisted by Miss Holcomb and Mrs. R. L. Moore, and each little fellow was in love with his part and anxious to carry it out and the unanimous verdict of the audience was that all did their parts perfectly, and that Mrs. Jenkins and her able assistants had proven themselves masters in the art of training children children.

After the program was over, and the names of each of the one hundred and twenty members of the Sunday School had been called, three dozen times, each calling taking with it a present from the large and beautiful Christmas tree, the Assistant Superintendent, after an appropriate talk, asked the audience to remain seated for a few minutes, and two baskets of oranges was passed among the audience, and every body present was asked to take some.

After the benediction, the people with their faces bright and shining with love which seems so prevalent during Christmas times, with one record pronounced the event a grand success; and Mrs. Jenkins was the recipient of many hearty congratulations on her successful management. The adults as well as the children went out with the story of the babe found in the manger fresh in their minds, and every one was joyful, and more generous and charitable, from having the charm of the Christmas spirit perfected into His life again.

Fluor spar business is on the rapid rise in Marion and orders are coming in fast and the demand for the product is at good prices.

As our streets have been blocked for some time with snow, we shall be glad when it is gone.

A meeting is in progress at the Baptist church that bids fair to awaken the town. Rev. Wm. D. Nowlin is an evangelist with a soul saving reputation and backed, as he is, by Rev. M. E. Miller, one of the cleverest and best loved little preachers in this end of the state, with good singers from all the churches, there is every reason to expect great blessings from the meeting.

All of the newly elected officers are beginning to look at home in their new possessions and things are moving along smoothly.

W. B. RANKIN NOTIFIES THE STEMMING DISTRICT.

They Must Deliver No Funked Molded Tobacco For Fear Injuring Sales

To the members of the Stemming District Tobacco Association I wish to say: In preparing your tobacco for delivery members should bear in mind, that in our contract with the buyers they were not to take tobacco that is damaged by funk or mold, hail beaten or dirty from being rained on after having been cut. So if you should have any tobacco damaged from the above cause you should separate it from the sound or it will effect the price of the whole lot. In stripping, assort well and keep the long and the short separate. So the trader can put a proper valuation on your crop. Where tobacco is delivered in mixed lengths he can only estimate at the amount of each. Whatever you do; do not sprinkle tobacco. The buyers are not compelled to take it until offered in proper condition.

Again let me request that you who are not done stripping to tie in medium sized hands. In selling the Crittenden county pool, your Executive Board promised to do this. If we expect the buyers to comply with their part of the contract, we should be willing to do the same. Believing you will do this, as good, loyal members, I remain,

Yours truly,
W. B. RANKIN,
Chairman Crittenden Co.

REV. CYRUS BRADY TOWNSEND

Of Kansas City, Writes the Island of Regeneration and While Backed by Women of His

CHURCH IS CONDEMNED BY THE PRESS.

The board of directors of the Toledo public library barred "The Island of Regeneration," written by the Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady, rector of St. George's Episcopal church, Kansas City, and the women members of his Kansas City church are mad about it. One woman, the Kansas City public librarian, says: "The fact that Dr. Brady wrote it assures me that it is all right. We have two copies that are always out, and five more ordered."

A woman, being a victim of impulse, is not a proper person to say what the people shall, or shall not read, is she? This woman says the book is "all right because Dr. Brady wrote it," evidently in the blind belief that a preacher can do no wrong. The illustrations in the book are enough to condemn it, even if a preacher wrote it with prayers before sharpening his pencil. In "The Island of Regeneration," a man lives on a desert island all alone. He has never seen a woman; he has never heard of a woman, and doesn't know what kind of a creature it is, when one day a woman is shipwrecked on his island. She sees that the man has the purity of ignorance, and also that her clothes will not last if she wears them, and also that the climate is so balmy she doesn't need any. So she appears to him with nothing on but a few leaves draped from her waist down. This picture appears in the book, but of course there is nothing wrong in it, because a preacher wrote it. She is aware of man's weakness, being of the world, but relies on his ignorance for her protection, "and she reasons that all the emotions to which she was subject were in her own bosom; that the man before her neither knew nor cared for the things which vexed her. She went on."

Which means, in every day talk, that she went on saving her clothes. She didn't know that the man knew, without being told, and that he followed her at night to the door of her cave and then because she trusted him, turns back, "face white in the moonlight, drops of sweat beading his brow, from the violence of his effort." You know what happened finally. She didn't put on her clothes and sail away, and he didn't forget that he was a Gentleman. But she forgot she was a Perfect Lady, and one night when he was wrestling with his emotions, she came to him, and the librarian of the Kansas City library says there is nothing wrong in the recital of what happened "because Dr. Brady wrote it."

In another picture, the woman dressed only in her wreath of leaves, lies in the man's arms. He is also saving his clothes, and is giving her the soul kiss. The story is a story of disgusting lust; it doesn't awaken a good sentiment in the mind of the reader, and is calculated to awaken many that are vile, and that it is all right because a preacher wrote it shows a blind confidence in preachers belonging several generations back. Dr. Brady should be ashamed of himself; and the board of directors of the Toledo library deserve some commendation for their ban upon this scandalous story. It would be interesting to know if the members of that board are men or women.

PASSES RESOLUTIONS OF RESEPECT

In Memory of the Late R. W. Wilson, by the First Presbyterian Church In Session.

HAD FOR MANY YEARS BEEN ELDER OF CHURCH.

The session of the First Presbyterian church of Marion, Kentucky, desiring to attest their sense of loss sustained by the death of Mr. R. W. Wilson, who, for so many years, has been an elder in this church, our high appreciation of his character and sympathy with his family, here record the following minutes:

Resolved, 1. That in his death this session has lost one of its most faithful members, a man of pure and honest purpose, ever faithful in matters of trust and an earnest Christian.

Resolved, 2. That we treasure the memory of his blameless life, his wise counsels, his quiet zeal and his liberality in the cause of the Master.

Resolved, 3. That in placing upon record an expression of our sorrow in this bereavement, we can not do justice to our feeling by a mere compliance with the forms which custom has prescribed. Such an expression would be far too inadequate to the occasion. While conscious of our own sense of loss, we feel that by his death this community and county has lost one of its most valuable and patriotic citizens.

Resolved, 4. That the clerk of our session be directed to communicate a copy of these resolutions to the family of our deceased brother, as an expression of our sympathy in their bereavement.

a happy citizen makes a public state-case of it. What better proof of Jane Byford, Marion, Ky., says:

"I was greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills and consequently I am in position to recommend them. My kidney trouble was brought on by exposure, together with a great deal of hard work. I suffered from the complaint for two years. I was unable to rest well on account of the dull pains through my back and in the morning I arose feeling very stiff. When I stooped sharp twinges seized me and caused intense suffering. I tired easily, felt very nervous and had dizzy spells and headaches. I knew from the sediment in the kidney secretions that my kidneys were disordered and a frequent desire to pass the secretions at night also proved this fact. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store, I have improved a great deal in every way. I have no hesitation in recommending this remedy as one that lives up to representations."

CHANCES FOR HENDERSON DAM

Look Bright Since Washington Visit
Kentucky and Indiana Delegations.

STANLEY A HARD WORKER—NEXT TO OUR OLLIE! GREATEST OF ALL

Washington, Jan. 8.—Western Kentucky and Southwestern Indiana's chief business men appeared to-day before the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors to tell why the next improvement on the Ohio river should take the form of a dam at Henderson, Ky. The delegation was composed of four men from Owensboro, eight from Henderson and twelve from Evansville.

In addition to these, Col. John L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association; Representative Ollie M. James, of the First Kentucky district; Representative A. O. Stanley, of the Second; Representative John Boehne, of the First Indiana, and former Representative Frank B. Posey, of the First Indiana, appeared in behalf of the dam.

The committee looked favorably upon the project for which, among others, the following arguments were presented.

The Henderson dam is the only one recommended by the Army Board of Review of 1908 that is yet unbuilt.

Its construction will save $50,000 a year in wrecked shipping at Henderson.

It will give access to the natural and unique ice harbor at the mouth of Green river,

All Kentucky want it built.
Southern Indiana wants it built.

Line Up Two Members.

The Kentucky delegations had last night secured the aid of two members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee at a dinner given the visiting Kentuckians by Representative Stanley. Here, in addition to the laymen, were gathered some of the most notable public men of the country—Col. Vance, Representative James, Representatives
Underwood and Clayton, of Alabama; Representatives Pell and Burgess, of Texas; Representative Bowers, of Mississippi and Representative Tener, of Pennsylvania former Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks. Tener

After La Grippe

"I had suffered several weeks with LaGrippe. Had pains in my head and eyes. It felt as though there was a heavy weight on the top of my head, until it seemed that my brain would burst. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. When I dozed off I would awake with a sudden jerking of my whole body. Dr. Miles' Nervine, Heart Remedy and Nerve and Liver Pills cured me. A number of friends have since realized the same benefits."

MRS. ALVIN H. LOCKS,
Seabrook, N. H.

The after effects of LaGrippe are often more serious than the disease, as it leaves the system in a weakened condition that invites more serious troubles, such as pneumonia, etc.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine

Should be taken for some time to thoroughly restore nerve strength.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will return your money.

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT

The Man and His Inventions.

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, capitalist, engineer and inventor, has made a success of his life despite the handicap of wealth. He has chosen labor rather than idle luxury and determined to make a name by his mind rather than by his millions.

The eldest son of Cornelius, Sr., he was educated as the heir-apparent to the bulk of a great fortune and as the future financial head of large interests and industries. After graduating from Yale in 1892 he entered the mechanical department of the New York Central Railroad to acquire a practical knowledge of engineering. He worked as conscientiously, simply and faithfully as if he were but a struggling mechanic ambitiously seeking to win his own way in the battle of life.

In 1898 he married Miss Grace Wilson of New York, despite the violent opposition of his father who protested because she was older than his son. Cornelius, Jr., decided for himself, followed the guidance of his heart in the most sacred decision in the life of an individual, naturally, simply and without any consciousness of the halo of the heroic self-sacrifice the sensational press would place on his head. He did merely what he felt was right and resented the impertinence of being publicly canonized, as if real love could ever be outbalanced by gold. The one million dollars which he received on the death of his father was increased to seven by an arrangement with his brother Alfred who inherited the major part of the estate, and this fortune has since been more than doubled by Mr. Vanderbilt's own efforts.

He has invented more than ten valuable improvements on locomotives alone. His tender consisting of a cylindrical water-tank and a coal-box of unusual design, has many advantages. It increases the carrying capacity for fuel and water, reduces the cost of construction and maintenance, lessens the weight and adds to the tender's strength and life. His all-steel cars, upon which he worked two years, are superior to the ones now in use, and on the Lackawanna Road his cars carry sixty tons of coal, while five years ago a fifty-ton car was considered the limit of possibility.

Mr. Vanderbilt in his writings and lectures on engineering topics, reveals the same aggressive, far-seeing and original mind shown in his inventions. He is modest, earnest and serious, despising notoriety and is irritated by the fact that a rich young man with thoughts above mere money-spending should be regarded as a world's wonder.

HERE AND THERE.

(By Rambler.)

New Year's greetings.
Our prophetically-inclined citizens are predicting a good crop year for 1910—a white Christmas.

It is reported from some sections of the country that traps are so nicked it is dangerous to pass through the woods after night.

An honest "square deal" between man and man, and a happy New Year to all is our wish.

To our "cousins" in the West:
Old Kentucky still has a place on the map, and if she should fall through there would be a mighty big hole through the center of this old planet of ours.

The old year was rung out and the new rung in, and as we meditated on God's goodness toward us we thought:

—Those New Year's bells—
How many a tale their music tells!
Of youth and home, and that sweet time,

When first we heard the merry chime.
And many a heart that once was gay,
And like the old year, passed away,
Within the tomb now darkly dwells.

And hears no more those New Year bells."

When we are gone that tuneful peal
Will still ring on; in years to come
Other feet will walk those bells
And sing your praise, sweet New Year's bells

Yes, old 1909 is gone forever and will live no more, except in our memories and on the pages of his tory. It brought both pleasures and sorrows. The angel of death has entered many of our homes and claimed our loved ones. "But as the new year is here we can only

"Act in the living present, Trust in God and do the right."

INDIGESTION

Relief in Five Minutes and Permanent Cure or Money Back.

When Haynes & Taylor state that they have a remedy that is guaranteed to cure any man or woman who suffers from food fermentation which causes belching, sour stomach, gas eructations, heartburn and that lump of lead feeling in the abdomen or money back what are the poor stomach sufferers in Marion and vicinity going to do about it?

The name of this most remarkable stomach prescription is Mi-o-na.

It's a certain cure for indigestion or stomach disorders. Here is one opinion:

"I have been troubled with indigestion for more than a year. I bought one box of Mi-o-na and it cured me. I would not be without a box in the house for $50.00. It saves a lot when you can be cured for 50 cents." —Archer Soderquist,
6 Nichols St., Wakefield, Mass.,
Nov. 7, 1909.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets costs 50 cents a box at druggists everywhere and at Haynes & Taylor's Marion,

Booth's Pills will be given constipation sufferers a joyful surprise. 25c dreadful condition" he writes, "my liver trouble pulling me down to matchless medicine—Electric Bitters—

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regenerates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it, Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have been trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only to be found in Kodol.

COUNTY COURT CONVENED MONDAY

Notwithstanding the Cold Weather
There was a Big Crowd in Town Proving a Busy Day.

THE WILL OF R. W. WIL- SON WAS PROBATED.

Monday dawned bright and clear, with the mercury too close to zero for one to be comfortable, and yet the people from all over Crittenden, Webster, Caldwell, Livingston and Union counties were in evidence, so that by noon the streets were alive with busy stock buyers and traders.

Judge Rochester made four sales of real estate as commissioner and Sheriff Asher several as tax collector.

The principle business before the County Judge was the appointing of three men constituting the Board of Processioners. They were: I. C. Hughes, W. A. Woodall and H. S. Hill.

The will of the late R. W. Wilson was probated, in which he leaves all of his property to his widow. Having heretofore made a division of his property to his two children, Mrs. S. M. Jenkins and John W. Wilson, he leaves the residue to his wife and naming her as executrix without bond to have and to hold, sell and convey at her will and to use as she desires. The will was a very brief document and yet satisfactory, conveying his every wish.

Judge Blackburn convened court on Tuesday evening to try A. D. Moon, an old civil war veteran, for incompetency for managing his affairs. Mr. Moon is 80 years old and has been blind for six or seven years in consequence of which he has been drawing a pension of $100.00 per month. A jury composed of twelve good men adjudged him incapable for the handing of his money.

gave Nebuchadnezzir "another heart" but it was the heart of a beast. The Bible does not say God gave Samuel a "new heart," the heart of a regenerated man. It is true that David did many wrong things, but how deeply he repented of his wickedness, and how penitently did he pray God to deliver him from blood-guiltiness. But he never fell from Grace, he simply lost for a while the "joys of salvation, as he expressed it, but he never lost salvation itself, for every one admits that he was saved. No man will deny that Solomon, at one period of his life, was a dissolute, licentious man, but that he was finally lost no one can prove, and but few have the cheek to affirm. The fact is, the evidence is to the contrary; for in the latter part of his life he confessed that "all was vanity and vexation of spirit." The conclusion of the whole matter with him was, "Fear God and keep his commandments and live. He was permitted to write three books of the Bible, which shows conclusively that he was willing, like a true Christian to confess his sins and repent of them.

I admit that Peter was a Christian, had been "born again," but I deny that he fell from grace, and that he was finally saved as all will admit.

Brother Hill also places Samson among the lost. Samson prayed and God answered his petition, which shows that Sampson was saved. Now, dear Bro. Hill, if these men who, you claim, fell from Grace, we will see where their location is at present: "For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened and have tasted of the heavenly gift and made partakers of the Holy Ghost, if they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance." Rom. 4: 4-6. This scripture fixes your theory of being born into the Kingdom of God more than once. Now, God says, "In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established." "And I say also unto thee, Thou art Peter, and upon this rock will I build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Matt. 16: 18. "I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand." John 10: 28.

Now, my dear brother, I will make you this proposal. That you select 12 passages of scripture and I will do the same. We will base our argument upon them. If you will do this we shall see whether my creed is wrong or your "head full of theology" is wrong.

J. R. KING.

Miss Rosa Bradburn, who, some time ago, went to Evansville to seek employment, was stricken with disease and the Evansville authorities, refusing her right as a charge of the city or county, was returned to Marion in almost a dying condition. She was cared for here at the expense of at a private boarding house until death a few days ago, relieved her of her suffering. She was some fond mothers girl who, perhaps, had been kind enough in her life, to others that her daughter might have been saved a paupers grave. Her time for rejoicing will be great indeed when she finds the poorest of earth, the richest in God's Kingdom.

Answer
This Question

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured numerous cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are two letters which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fitchville, Ohio.—"My daughter was all rundown, suffered from pains in her side, head and limbs, and could walk but a short distance at a time. She came very near having nervous prostration, had begun to cough a good deal, and seemed melancholy by spells. She tried two doctors but got little help. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver Pills she has improved so much that she feels and looks like another girl."—Mrs. C. Cole, Fitchville, Ohio.

Iraburg, Vermont.—"I feel it my duty to say a few words in praise of your medicine. When I began taking it I had been very sick with kidney and bladder troubles and nervous prostration. I am now taking the sixth bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find myself greatly improved. My friends who call to see me have noticed a great change."—Mrs. A. H. Sanborn, Iraburg, Vermont.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.
